RILEY & SONS OF NEW CASTLE RECEIVES GOLD CLASS

The Collision Repair Industry's Highest Training Recognition

New Castle, In, November 15, 2017– Riley and Sons today announced its achievement of Gold Class status at its New Castle location. This is the industry standard for training that contributes to complete and safe repairs. Only 10 percent of collision repair businesses currently meet this rigorous training requirements necessary to earn the Gold Class designation.

Today's vehicles are increasing sophisticated devices featuring an ever growing number of components, parts and advanced lightweight materials. The constant introduction of new vehicle technologies can result in repair procedures changing significantly from year to year, making current repair knowledge critical for the achievement of complete and safe quality repairs.

Gold Class shops are required to have every technician involved in collision repair training that is specific to their roles. They must continue ongoing training throughout the year for Riley and Sons to maintain its Gold Class Status.

"Riley and Sons is honored to be named a Gold Class collision repair service facility." said Chris Edwards, Operation Manager of Riley and Sons. We are proud of our commitment to training because it is also a symbol of our commitment to professionalism and to the safety of our customers.'
